

Introduction of Rowing Suits for Junior Rowers

After consultation with parents and students the Ballarat Clarendon College uniform committee have included the school rowing suit on the clothing list for those students participating in the junior rowing program. In previous years, only members of the Ballarat Clarendon College senior squad have worn the suit.

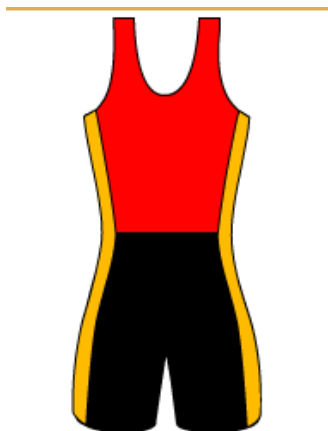

The rowing suit is an all-in-one design that allows for greater range of movement whilst in the boat. Most students involved in rowing in Victoria wear the rowing suit or the "zooty" as it is called. The supplier of the suit is the same as used by the Victorian State Team and various Australian Teams.

Rowing Victoria (RV) rules state;

44.4 Each member of a Club or school competing in a RV Event shall wear the racing uniform of their Club or school and other garments which must all be identical in design and colour except for permitted sponsor identifications which shall nonetheless be identical within each crew. Except as provided for composite crews, members of the same crew shall compete in identical clothing.

In order to abide by this rule, all members of crew representing Ballarat Clarendon College shall wear their rowing suit during races conducted by RV. This applies to the Head of the Lake Regatta.

If you require a suit, please complete the following forms. Please note, our experience is that suits need replacing after approximately two years of training/racing.
