The Full Journey
At the end of last week, all of the Junior School staff attended the Senior School Presentation Night, which served to acknowledge all of the achievements of the individuals within the 2015 Year 12 cohort. Over the course of that night and many other celebrations it’s fascinating to be able to witness the growth and development of these impressive young people. During their graduation dinner last Thursday evening, it was tremendous to see the relatively large group of students who commenced in our ELC or Prep and had undertaken the ‘full Clarendon Journey’ over 14 or 15 years.

It is a privilege to be able to watch these students on nights such as these on the ‘threshold of their future’ eagerly awaiting the next stage in their lives. Our hope as educators is that along the way as they move from ELC to Junior to Middle to Year 9/10 and ultimately, Senior School, we can all play a special part in their development. Relationships are special at Clarendon and it is so rewarding to see these young people at the end of their compulsory schooling acknowledging their teachers along the way and their love and respect for their parents. Our work in the ELC and the Junior School is so important in building a firm foundation for this journey.

‘Touchstone Market on Mair’
We would like to congratulate the JSPG Executive and their team of amazing volunteers involved in our first ‘Touchstone Market on Mair’ on 16 October. The community came out in force to support the event and it was a success. It was tremendous to see the excellent numbers availing themselves of the market stalls and the food and wine area. Watson Hall and the external decking area provided an excellent backdrop for the event. Thanks again to Nikki Townsend and her team on bringing this event to fruition and it was another impressive ‘first’ for the group!

JSPG Executive Opportunities
Whilst on the JSPG, many of the current executive are not seeking re-election so opportunities exist for others in our parent body to volunteer their services in any way. Nominations are now open for these positions and forms can be obtained from the JSPG or the Junior School Office. The AGM for the group will be held on Wednesday 18 November.

Enrolments for 2016
We are currently in the process of finalising enrolments for 2016. Information nights for Prep 2016 and ELC 2016 are being held on Wednesday 28 October and Thursday 12 November respectively in Watson Hall. Families considering not being with us in 2016 are asked to make this known immediately in line with our enrolment policies. Classes for 2016 will also be organised prior to the end of the year so that our Orientation Day on Monday 30 November will enable students to be in their 2016 classes.

Junior School Performing Arts Showcase
All families should now be aware of the arrangements for the Junior School Performing Arts Showcase, scheduled for Saturday 14 November. Rehearsal, costuming and ticket details are all on connect@clarendon. Families are advised to book early and to be considerate and conservative in terms of the number of tickets booked.

We are looking forward to an exciting end to the year and would ask all members of our community to keep up to date via our regular updates and posts on connect@clarendon.

Junior School Staff Profiles
In this week’s edition of the Echo, we are pleased to be able to include profiles for Joanne Hill, Kyle Hackwill and Amanda Moloney.

Joanne Hill
Name: Joanne Christine Hill

Age: I am the oldest full time female staff member at the Junior School. When I tell the students my age, they often respond with “My mum’s that age….” Or “My dad’s a few years older than you…” I dread the day it becomes “My grandma is that age”!

Family: I am a twin and a daughter of a twin. Although quite common now, twins were a rarity when I was growing up and I felt quite unique being one. My sister lives near Torquay so if any of you are holidaying down there and I ignore you, I promise it won’t be deliberate. You have probably just said hello to my sister!
Past Hobbies: I love the water and as a result, I did a lot of scuba diving especially around the Portland coast when I was younger. I haven't been diving for a long time now but I did love the times I dived with dolphins and seals.

Relaxing: I really enjoy getting away and one of my favourite places to escape to is Halls Gap. As a family, we have spent many a weekend there bush walking and visiting the Halls Gap Zoo. We used to have a holiday house there and hence, feel almost like locals. Reading by an open fire with a glass of red and that view is one of the best ways to unwind after a hard day of trekking.

People I admire: people into fitness and running (yes, a large portion of those on staff!) I am fundamentally lazy and always find excuses not to do any exercise. I need a goal.... Run a half marathon by the time I turn 50? Too ambitious? I don't know..... Maybe I should aim to Run Ballarat next year. I was pretty pleased with myself when I did my first fun run a number of years ago so maybe that would be a more appropriate goal.

Adventures: One of my biggest regrets is not living a more adventurous life. I read about people doing Camp America, student exchange programmes or living in a different country and wish that my fears of the unknown did not stop me from doing these things when I was younger. I am determined not to hinder my girls in the adventures that they may choose to have as they grow up (Please, just be safe!) When my girls have finished their education, I am determined to go on an adventure of my own. David, my husband, wants to do an historical tour of the United Kingdom. History is not really my thing so I might explore America and Canada. Our plan at this stage is to meet up on a given date in a particular city where we have to find each other. I think it would be an easy task – he is going to be in a museum somewhere for sure!

Secret Vice: should I share this? I am embarrassed to admit that I am a Candy Crush fan. What level are you on? I have got to where I am without paying a cent so I am pretty proud of that! Level 1227 here I come.....

Amanda Moloney
Maudie, a little country town halfway between Ballarat and Geelong, is where I grew up. There isn't really anything there except for a bus stop, some tennis courts and the fire shed. I am the eldest of four children and the shortest in the family. Mum and Dad still live on their hobby farm that I grew up on and they enjoy spectacular views of the Moorabool valley and the Tarcoola Winery. The majority of my primary school years were spent at Maude. It was a tiny school with only two teachers and thirty students. Unfortunately, at the completion of my grade five year, it was decided to shut the school and so I completed grade six at Lethbridge Primary School.

Secondary school saw me head into Geelong to Matthew Flinders Girls Secondary College. I thoroughly enjoyed secondary school and made the most of all the sporting opportunities presented to me. As a result I chose to pursue this passion and studied to be a PE and Maths teacher at Ballarat University (Federation University). What a culture shock University was! Coming from a girls school and being a bit of a “goodie two shoes” I didn't know what had hit me.

My first teaching job was back at my old secondary school. I began my teaching career solely teaching PE. After four years of being a “poor Uni student” I still remember the day I rang Dad and told him how much my pay was for a fortnight and he was very quick to tell me not to blow it all at once.

In 2002 I moved to Ballarat and began teaching at Ballarat Clarendon College. I worked at the Sturt St campus until 2005 teaching both PE and Maths. In 2004 I married Shaune and we decided to travel overseas in 2005. We had an amazing time in Europe.

Upon returning in 2006, it would be fair to say life has been very busy. We now have three adorable children, we have completed a three year stint living at school at the Sturt St campus as Shaune was Head of Boys Boarding, and we called a caravan a home for a whole term as we renovated an old farm house on a property at Mount Buninyong.

Kyle Hackwill
When I was young... I grew up around Western Victoria. My dad was a state school principal so my family moved from town to town with his work. When I started school at Hepburn State School we lived at the school and my back yard was the school playground. We eventually moved to the Wimmera and I started learning about music around this time.

My schooling was different... One of the biggest differences in my school experience and school today relates to summer time. If the temperature got to over 40 degrees – fairly often in Edenhope, classes would stop at lunch time and then we’d all walk to Lake Wallace for an afternoon swim – this was always great fun.
Music became important to me... In year 7 at Edenhope High School I was given the opportunity to learn the flute. I joined the band, did music tours and exams, played in the pit of school musicals, made lots of friends and had a great time – it’s still the same now! After secondary school I went to the Con at Melbourne University and majored in Music Performance and Music Education. I even did one of my teaching rounds at Ballarat and Clarendon College!

Where I’ve worked...Most of my teaching career has centred around Western Victoria, Horsham College, Warrnambool – Brauer and Emmanuel Colleges and Ballarat – Ballarat Clarendon, Loreto, Ballarat Grammar and Federation University. In the middle of all of this my wife (another music teacher!) and I moved to the Philippines and worked for a couple of years at the Brent International School. This was a great experience where we made life-long friends, lived within another culture, travelled throughout South-East Asia and been on some great holidays.

Ballarat...Has been a great place for Ruth and me. We’ve put down roots, started to raise our two wild boys Reuben and Jeremy, reconnected with family and friends. We’re sort of the mid-point geographically for our families, so we’ve always go them stopping off on the way to or from Melbourne.

Favourite Music...Anything by Mozart, Specifically the Piano Concertos, more specifically the 22nd one in E Flat Major, more specifically the 2nd movement.

Teaching highlights...Teaching Miss Smith how to play clarinet beautifully. Team-Teaching at College with some fantastic teachers. Watching students develop skills and passion in music, seeing them come alive as musicians.

Favourite students quotes at BCC...Mrs Kriss, what language do you speak? (English) Mr Hackwill, where do you work? Wendy’s? (My reply – yes, Wendy’s)
On holiday I like to...Read books, hike, canoe, swim, travel to new and old places, visit family and friends and listen to music.
3YO Groups

Kinder has been a busy place over the past couple of weeks. We have been enjoying welcoming guest readers into our room who have shared their favourite stories. We have also been participating in lots of fun activities to continue to help improve our fine motor skills so there have been many play dough creations made, lots of Lego cities have been popping up over the place and there has been an abundance of painted artwork. The children may have started to go home singing Christmas songs, although it seems early; however, these things take time in Kinder so it should be no surprise if 'Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer' is heard being hummed around the place for the next couple of months! The 3YO children are looking forward to their excursion to Ballarat Art Gallery this week to participate in the Ballarat Children's Week activities on offer.

Over the last two weeks, the children in the four year old rooms have continued to consolidate their knowledge and understanding of the letters and sounds. The children have practised blending three sounds together to form a word they are trying to read. They have used this skill to read simple sentences on the board, as well as while joining in on shared reading. The children have continued to improve their writing abilities, segmenting a three letter word to spell it. This has aided them during their play experiences, assisting them to annotate their pictures and write simple letters to others.

In numeracy, the children have continued to consolidate their understanding of the number system. They have played games to assist them in counting forwards and backwards, identifying numbers that are more and less than a given number and ordinal numbers and have practised identifying numbers to 20. In small groups, the children have continued to practise writing their numbers. The children have been focussing on starting the number at a particular point, helping them to form the number correctly. In the coming weeks, the children will continue to practise their skills in these areas, as well as engaging in activities to consolidate their understandings of estimation.

4YO Sessional

The four year old sessional children have been enjoying a variety of new activities this term. The role play area of a ‘Clothes Shop’ has been popular with the children giving opinions on different outfits and enjoying being sales assistants and enthusiastic customers. This area has prompted very valuable verbal and non-verbal interaction and negotiating skills. A highlight of these first few weeks has been a visit the Ballarat City Library. The children delighted in the opportunity to listen to Julie (the librarian) explain the different features and activities of the Library. They loved browsing books and listening to stories while they relaxed on the couches and ottomans. Some children completed a drawing of their favourite book character. The four year old group have welcomed two new friends this term and we hope Soda and Darwin enjoy their time at the Clarendon ELC.

Room 1

The children in Room 1 have had an enjoyable first few weeks back at Kinder. All of the children have enjoyed the inclusion of a stage in the inside environment. The children have transformed themselves into different characters through the aid of dress-ups and puppets, using their knowledge and understandings of how a performance is conducted. The children have enjoyed singing and dancing to various popular songs, as well as getting creative and making up their own. The children’s confidence levels, cooperation and creative skills have all been further developed through the aid of this experience. In the coming weeks, the children will continue to further their interest in performing and role-play, with a stage being set up in the outside environment and the inside environment transformed into a camping setting.

Room 2

The children in room 2 have been busy enjoying the different learning experiences Kate and Jo put out in the room. Ice play and the recyclable building blocks have been two of the most popular activities. As the fish have gone to a ‘better’ place, we decided we needed to put something in the fish tank that was a bit easier to keep! William brought in a yabbie from his dam. Jo took it out the tank so all the children could have a better look! While some of the children were fascinated by the yabbie, others were not so sure! The experience inspired some children to draw pictures.

As the weather had taken a turn for the better this presented an ideal opportunity for the children to enjoy some messy play outside. They took their shoes and socks off and played in the sand and water. The children enjoyed all aspects of this play. Messy is designed with the children’s natural curiosity in mind. It encourages a positive approach to new experiences. Messy play can develop children’s concentration, problem solving and planning.
Recently the children in room 2 have visited the Ballarat City Library. When we arrived, Julie met us with a beautiful friendly smile. She started by telling the children they can make noise, sing songs and read books while in the library. One the children were settled Julie read us a story all about an elephant and a pig called ‘Let’s go for a drive!’ by Mo Willems. It was a really funny book especially as Julie made different voices for the characters. Julie continued to read other books and sing songs and rhymes with the children. The children thoroughly enjoyed this experience.

Ben Locke - State Athletics
After winning the discus and shot put at School, District, Division and Regional level Ben Locke from Year 4 went off to the State Athletic Championships in Melbourne with confidence but acutely aware of the standard he would be up against and was realistic about getting a good throw in early and then going for it and seeing what may eventuate. He knew he would be throwing against the big boys but didn’t realise just how big until he entered the ring.

In each event the competitors had 3 throws each and the top 8 were selected to have one extra throw. At 10am it was time for... shot put. Ben’s best throw was 9.64 metres which enabled him to finish 5th in the 9-10 age group in the state. Two of the boys threw over 10 metres, so it was quite a close competition.

He then needed to conserve energy and control his nerves as he had to wait until 2.15pm to step up and throw the discus. He was able to conserve the energy but maybe not the nerves as his toe just touched the ring and his first throw was a foul. Like a true champ he composed himself and improved with each throw after that shaky start. Ben was in 3rd position and with his final throw launched the discus 34.84 metres to take the... SILVER MEDAL!

We congratulate Ben on his perseverance, effort and attitude towards his athletics and we wait anxiously to see if he is selected to represent Victoria at the National Athletics Championships in Canberra over 4 days in December.

Greater Western Athletics Championships
On Friday 16 October College had 12 representatives from years 4-6 compete at the Greater Western Primary School Championships. It was a tremendous effort to reach this stage. The competitors had been through two previous qualifying events to reach this level. Hundreds of competitors from regional areas around Victoria had come together for this competition. As usual, the College competitors gave it their all, some had the anxious wait to compete, whilst others were first up on the day. One thing that was very clear on the day was the support, no matter which College participant was on show, all College athletes were their watching and cheering, you could tell they were all very proud College students.

Congratulations to the following students who competed with heart in their respective events: Lily Dwyer, Ben Locke, Flynn Cruickshank, Kate Thomas, Fred Valpied, April Crumpler, Matilda Pearce, Ashwin Spencer, Annie Cowan, William Talbot, Freya Valpied, Loki Baker-Radford. An extra congratulation must go to William Talbot who finished third overall in Long Jump and Ben Locke who qualified for the State Championships after finishing 1st in Shot Put and Discus.

Junior School Parents’ Group - 2016
The Junior School Parents’ Group is looking to fill some places on the Committee for the 2016 school year.
Positions currently vacant include:

- President
- Vice President
- Special Events Coordinator
- Parent Liaison Coordinator
- Treasurer
- Secretary

The main role of the Junior School Parents’ Group is to support the Junior School with organising various activities throughout the year and assisting the school where necessary. Meetings are held monthly (during the term) and everyone from the JS community is welcome to participate. Committee positions are held for one year with the option of re-election for a second year should you wish to do so.

Involvement in this auxiliary also offers a positive opportunity for parents/guardians of children of the Junior School to be involved. It is a great way to engage with the whole school community, make new friends and help shape the concepts and direction of the group and their activities which, ultimately and most importantly, benefit the children at the school. It is an energetic, friendly and dynamic auxiliary with much potential: we have a strong volunteer base, we represent and promote a vibrant mix of views from across the JS community and we are financially very secure. The Junior School Parents' Group is a well-supported and respected auxiliary and has a proud history, having been established in 1992.

If you would like more information about the roles of the committee members, please don’t hesitate to talk to someone from the current committee or, indeed, the Co-Heads of the Junior School. We look forward to hearing from anyone interested in any of the positions or from those simply interested in joining in and helping out. Information can also be obtained from the JS Office.

This year’s annual giving program has focused on raising funds to help develop a brand new Fitness Centre and state-of-the-art Rowing Tank. It’s a project that is in line with the school’s ‘Fit for Life’ plan, where the school takes an active role in providing learning opportunities for students to give them the knowledge they need to make positive health and lifestyle choices such as fitness both now and throughout their life.

It’s an incredibly exciting project which will commence its construction at the end of the year. Here are some of the highlights of the new Fitness Centre and Rowing Tank;

- The Rowing Tank, will be the first of its kind in Australia and has been designed by an internationally acclaimed rowing-tank architect.

- It will be motorised to generate water currents which simulate outdoor water conditions, and regulated by a remote-control system.

- It can accommodate 16 rowers, with two parallel pools, but can be used with as few as two rowers. Donors have the chance to ‘purchase’ a rowing seat and we only have 5 left! Please download the brochure for more information.

- Clear window along Wanliss Street will give bystanders a glimpse into the movement of the water.

- The new infinity pool will be heated using sustainable solar power.

- The new spin room will accommodate 30 spin bikes for group lessons, including early-morning sessions such as Pilates and yoga. The floor will be fitted with a ‘spring floor’ and mirrors along the wall, ideal for dance classes.

As the beginning of the construction for this project draws closer and interest from across the community grows, please contact the Communications Office if you are interested in a chance to learn more about the Fitness Centre & Rowing Tank from the project Architect at a reception on Wednesday 16 December from 5.30 to 7pm.

Therefore if anyone is planning on a change to their current enrolment status notice is required in writing to the Principal before the end of this term to avoid possible penalty.
